

Meet Ken Jordan

Angel Flight Southeast is truly blessed to have Ken Jordan as a volunteer. Ken started volunteering with AFSE in 2007 before that time he was an Angel Flight pilot for both Angel Flight Central and Angel Flight Mid-Atlantic flying over 50 missions. Ken volunteers his time in every capacity possible. He is a AFSE pilot, champion speaker, North Central Florida Wing Leader, volunteer trainer, technical advisor, event coordinator, and a hotline volunteer.

Whenever AFSE receive a call from a civic organization or medical facility requesting a speaker the first call we make is to Ken Jordan. Ken has volunteered to speak to countless organizations since joining AFSE including social workers, aviation groups, and civic organizations such as the Shriners.

Ken helped start the North Central Florida Wing in 2007. Since its inception the wing has flourished to become one of the most successful wings in the Southeast region. Ken works tirelessly to recruit new volunteers and to keep the current volunteers active and involved. Recently Ken undertook the creation of an AFSE airplane parade float. Under Ken's leadership the North Central Florida Wing bought a Piper Aztec plane that had been destroyed in Hurricane Katrina and converted it into a parade float named Amelia that travels throughout the state of Florida spreading the word about AFSE. This project was a huge undertaking and an enormous success.

In our efforts to educate more people about AFSE we have developed a champion speaker program. In order to have a strong champion speaker program our champion speakers must be well educated on AFSE and the services we provide. No one knows more about AFSE than Ken Jordan. For this reason Ken volunteers to teach the AFSE champion speakers course which trains volunteer how to go out into the community and speak knowledgeably about our organization.
